

Save-A-Lot in Coxsackie achieves record totals in support of the United Way

In their recent campaign to support the United Way of Columbia and Greene Counties, the employees of the Save-A-Lot Distribution Center in Coxsackie amassed a total contribution of $4,828.00. The success of the campaign among the employees reflects 59% employee participation, which is an increase of 71% personal involvement over the 2006 campaign. Tony Querciagrossa, affectionately known as Tony Q, is the Distribution Center Manager (pictured). “Stepping-up to support the community in which we are doing business is a responsibility that Save-A-Lot shares nationwide”. In that spirit, Save-A-Lot Limited matched the total local contribution dollar-for-dollar, resulting in a total local contribution of $9,656.00. Phil Jackson, President of the United Way of Columbia and Greene Counties, expressed sincere thanks in saying that “this contribution supports the mission and the function of United Way of Columbia and Greene Counties which is to ACTIVATE THE CARING POWER OF OUR COMMUNITIES TO IMPROVE PEOPLE’S LIVES”.
